(00:01) hey traders one of my subscribers asked me to test his strategy his strategy is based on my main strategy he simplified it we're gonna backtest this one 100 times so if we go to the chart b2c usdt we need to be on a five minute chart and we need to add three indicators two emas and one for manchu so you go to indicators and you search for fu manchu it's a function cipher b plus divergences and you are gonna need two emas moving efforts exponential just press that one twice and you're almost good to go we're going to change the ema first

(00:50) the first ema the length is going to be 50. the style for me it's blue and i made the line a bit thicker just to make it clear and the red one is going to be 200 and red for me so that's gonna be it and for the fu manchu if you go to the settings there i've turned off the fast wave trend and i've turned off the stochastic error side for this strategy you're not using divergences so you could actually turn them off as well so you're actually only looking for the green and red dots for his strategy so where do we look for it's quite

(01:35) simple actually let me look for an example you're looking for death crosses and you're looking for golden crosses you have a death cross right here when the 50 ema goes underneath the 200 ema then you have a death cross if it's vice versa you have a golden cross so after a death cross the trend is going downwards you're looking for short positions when do you take an entry well that's going to be on the first dot above the zero line of the fumanchi and it should be a red dot so that's going to be this one you can take an entry

(02:16) here you can take an entry here you can take an entry here and you can take an entry here here here but that's up to you how long you keep going my advice is to take around a maximum of four or five trades after a golden off or a death cross because the trend is going to be weaker in the end and you will get stopped out more often so what do you do with the first entry you set your uh stop loss above the last swing high and you do it times one point one so it's one is rewards i mean like that and you do it on one because according

(03:10) to him you have a really high win percentage um and you get a nice profit in the end as well so that's going to be there the next one you have a dot after the scandal so you take an entry there last swing high that's one to 103 watts next one right here and as you can see right here you don't uh oh it's here if you go above the last swing high it's going to be there sometimes it's too far away then you can use the ema as your stop loss but for this one it's almost the same so i'm gonna place it there there as you can see you've a high win rate

(04:02) but we are going to backtest this this is cherry picked of course um let me show you a few long positions if you also want to use buybit like us don't forget to use our link down in the description below you can get up to 600 dollars in bonus so down in the description below you can find our link to buy bit for my main manual strategy you also look to the money flow index that's the red and green part the small waves in between for this strategy it doesn't really matter so i just like to have them on but if you

(04:41) don't want them if you purely want to focus on the strategy you cut could disable it on the show money flow index to toggle it off so you have a green dot right there so that's where you can take a long entry so that's there do it on the last swing

low if it's close to the ema i would advise you to go just underneath the ema and do it to one to one risk reward ratio if you are still in a trade you do not take the next trade so you would not have taken the next trades so then you are looking for a new entry that's going to be right there

(05:24) this one well you could see that you would have been stopped out and i like to show that as well because you know nothing is a pure profit so yeah you will take losses in any strategy check your stop loss underneath the ema because you're the last one low which touches the ema so you have a nice support there and actually about one to one like that that's a third trade already so let's look for one more that's going to be right there and after that you can see right here that the trend is weakening and i would not advise to take too many trades

(06:10) because you can see in the future of course it's not replay mode but you can see that the trend is weakening already and price is going underneath the 200 ema already and when you can see that and it's going to be a fifth trade already just skip it um there's a big chance you have a trend reversal and it actually did have a trend reversal so take a maximum of four trades and went but if the trend is still really strong then you could take a fifth trade maybe a sixth but that's all up to the current trend so this is going to be it i'm gonna

(06:52) backtest this one 100 times and i'll see you back after so after doing 100 trades it's placed on

(08:11) a number one of this chart this chart is based on the win percentage and not on the gain on account if it was on a gain on account it would be somewhere in the middle but this table is based on the win percentage the gain on account is pretty low because the russian ward is on one to one and the swings are you're pretty early with taking trades so there's some a lot of times the swing hasn't been created yet so you don't have that much margin to trade on if you are using it on the swing um this strategy had has some great

(08:54) potential but like i think it can be improved um i think if you add your atr on it and maybe use the risky watts a bit higher than one to one i think it can be a good one you can make your own strategy from it not bad at all it's not going to be my main strategy my main story is still the fu manchu and our private indicator created by muxy um but still not bad try it out for yourself maybe you get a higher percentage uh the person who i've got this one from had a bit higher percentage so uh yeah you just always have to watch out for

(09:39) these small entries don't forget your fees um in the gain on account the fees are not calculated in it but if you had 0.04 you you would have lost four percent of this so it would be 1.6 gain on account it's still a profit um but you have to see it for yourself if it's worth it or not so this is going to be it if you like these type of videos please subscribe and like it if you liked it and i hope to see you in the next one cheers
