(00:00) this is a very powerful beginner-friendly trading strategy that allows you to trade with the trend and also allows you to catch those big pumps before they happen just like the long trade you see right here so make sure to like the video make sure to subscribe to the chck we are telling you what is going to happen in these markets before they happen and you do not want to miss these updates I opened up a $500,000 long trade from the exact bottom I let everybody know where I was looking for the rejection giving the short trade and

(00:29) Bam putting my money where my my mouth is giving the warning giving the level and taking the trade right here you do not want to miss these updates so make sure to like subscribe click the bell for notifications let's get into this trading strategy this is a classic strategy one I used big time in the last cryptocurrency bull market also works very well in bare markets for shorting and this is the market Cipher 4our 24-minute trading strategy now what is the 4our 24 minute trading strategy essentially it means this and then I'm

(00:57) going to break it down for you we're going to be using two time frames the 4H hour time frame and the 24 minute time frame why the 24 minute time frame Jason why not the 20 minute why not the 10 minute why not the 25 minute guys I've been back testing this for many years and let me just tell you that the 24 minute is the time frame you want to use because it will give you better entries why I don't know and I don't care all I care about is making those juicy profits now this strategy does require an indicator called Market Cipher there is

(01:27) a link in the description of this video If you want you can use my affiliate link which gives me commission or you don't have to use my affiliate link and you can go to someone else I don't care if you use my affiliate link or not because personally I've been trading with Market cyer since before I was making YouTube content it's just the way I trade I'm not here to show the indicator so I don't care if you use my uh affiliate link or not so here is the deal all right when we are looking for long trades we want to first see a

(01:56) trigger wave on the 4-Hour time frame so step number one is a 4our trigger wave we're going to get into exactly what a trigger wave is Step number two is going to be a 24-minute trigger wave or money flow cross all right this is going to be the way we get into all trades here so first let's talk about what is a trigger wave on Market Cipher B there are two types of waves there are anchor waves and Trigger waves an anchor wave is a nice deep momentum wave that usually goes down below the negative 60 line right here and it's even juicier if

(02:33) it has some of these Big Ben bit boy Green Dots all right we don't really need to have those big Ben Green Dots but those actually make it more of a powerful signal now a trigger wave is continuation all right a continuation wave and what we want to see on the continuation wave is we want to see number one the momentum wave getting higher as the price is also getting higher showing us a continuation of momentum but a very powerful thing here is the money flow is the money flow also getting higher as that momentum wave is

(03:03) getting higher so you can see here this purple stuff this is the money flow right so as we see a nice anchor wave forming here and then we see a trigger wave forming right here we want to ask ourselves is the money flow getting higher if the answer is yes then this is exactly what we want to see if the answer is no you could still take a trade but the probabilities are not as good in your favor that it is going to play out once we see this 4our trigger Wave Printing then we head over to our 24 minute time frame now what you can do

(03:36) is you can actually double click Market Cipher B add an alert on Market Cipher B the condition is on Market Cipher B when the Blue Wave is crossing up a small Green Dot on the 4-Hour time frame all right once only once really means as soon as that thing starts to print it alerts you I recommend doing only once right then you don't have to look at the chart all day you can just wait for for the alert and then you can look and see if things look good you know to actually enter into that trade once you see that

(04:06) trigger W forming then you're going to head on over to the 24 minute time frame all right so we're going to go ahead and put a vertical line right here all right and we're going to head on over to our 24 minute time frame aha yes so here we are now what we're going to do on the 24 minute is we're going to wait for either a Green Dot to print or we are going to look for a money flow cross okay okay so what happens first that 4-Hour uh Green Dot prints and we see a money flow cross actually happen right here um now

(04:41) ideally you don't want to see the money flow Crossing when the 24 minute is giving you a red dot ideally you'd want to see the money flow Crossing as it's giving you one of these trigger waves so in this instance personally I would wait for this trigger wave to print right here as soon as that trigger wave prints this is now going to be your entry for the trade okay now let's talk about where the stop loss goes for these trades the stop loss needs to go under the last swing low so in this instance right here I would put my stop loss

(05:13) entering right here on this green trigger wave I would put my stop loss underneath the last swing low that's about a 1.4% stop loss and then honestly with these trades I'd like to shoot for at least a 2 to1 risk reward ratio really the best way to do it guys is just support and resistance right like a good Target for the trade would be right here where we saw this area of resistance so that right here is a almost a 3 to1 risk reward ratio that's a really good trade setup where we have our stop- loss our point of invalidation

(05:43) where the idea is wrong if we come and make a new swing low and we have our Target which is just historic resistance right here it looks like a high volume note this is how we want to set up our trades right stop- loss below the last swing low target support resistance flip shoot for at least a two to1 risk reward right we never want to be shooting for like a one to one risk reward or something like this because if we are then our losses and our wins are just going to break us even every single time and if we take more losses than wins

(06:09) we're going to lose money right you want to shoot for at least a two or a three to one because if you're making three times more profit than loss every trade you take you could lose three trades in a row and on that fourth win you're basically at a break even right you could have like a 75% loss rate and still Break Even shooting for those three to one risk reward ratios now if the money flow on the 4 Hour is continuing to get thicker over time as it is right here then we have another opportunity to get into a 4H hour 24

(06:43) minute trade now I never like to take these trades when the Green Dot on the 4 Hour is printing Above This overbought territory right if it's above the 60 line low Tove not good all right we want it to be not oversold because oversold means means you know we need to cool down a little bit so this one right here as the money flow is getting thicker this is another valid entry so boom we put our vertical line right here and let's check out how that would have played out on our 24 minute time frame so let's zoom in it's the trade I showed

(07:15) you at the beginning of the video as we print this 4our uh Green Dot the 4our dot begins to print right around here and then as this 24 minute Green Dot actually confirms right here I mean would just look at that guys literally as it confirms right that means the candle closes this little green dogee candle closes typically I don't wait for the candle to close on the 24 minute I just go for it but let's say you wait for the candle close we put our stop loss below the swing low and we shoot for our next area of resistance here

(07:48) which is going to be this it's a beautiful 3.25 to 1 risk reward ratio a beautiful takeprofit one right here and you know what I like to do a lot of times is if you you hit a 3 to 1 risk reward take out 50% of the trade you already made more than 1.5% on your account if you're risking 1% with a 6% stop then you can let the rest ride to see how far it can go honestly the 24 minute looks pretty good right now money flow is about to cross to the upside makes me think we can get another push up so this is the strategy guys it's a

(08:21) really good one it works really well I encourage you to go and back test it it also works for shorting so let's kind of see what we got we get this high up here right we got this nice high right here this is actually a bearish Divergence and this is a bonus guys if you don't know what a Divergence is stick around the channel make sure to subscribe but if you see a Divergence first then any other signal you get for these types of Trades are much more powerful right so we got a Divergence right here basically price made a higher high

(08:53) momentum made a lower high very powerful short signal and then the next opportunity that we get for that trigger wave is right over here okay so let's check out the short trade that we could have taken right over there all right so the the the the 4our dot prints right here so we got that vertical line uh right over here it's basically when that dot starts to print all right and then the money flow cross on the 24 minute happens right here all right so could enter right here or we could wait for a trigger wave so our two entries would have

(09:36) either been right here or right here it really makes no difference because in both of these instances our stop loss goes above the swing high so whether we're entering at that first entry or the second entry we enter here stop loss above the swing high and then what do we shoot for we shoot for support and honestly support is coming down at the low of this range right here so we would shoot all the way down to here which we hit very perfectly a beautiful 3:1 risk reward ratio right there if we are risking 1% we just made

(10:09) 3% on the account and again you could take out half or 75% and let the rest ride but you can see here guys basically these are the last three trades we could have taken using this strategy and all of them are absolutely beautiful actually no there's there's trades even before that let's check this out what happened over here what happened over here did we get any anything here uh nah we didn't really okay we didn't really you you might be able to say that this was an anchor then a trigger but I wouldn't consider that all right so yeah

(10:41) three clear entries here and maybe one unclear entry but all them very very nice trades based on just this strategy and support and resistance so go and back test this for yourself it's great for trading with the trend right you could see that you know that Divergence on the 4 Hour in my opinion kicked off a little bit of a downtrend here but yeah that money flow is King go back to this let me know what you think in the comments down below make sure to like subscribe click the Bell may
